AFRICA'S BOARDROOMS. ONE UNMISSABLE CONVERSATION.

Boardroom Governance Summit 2026

THEME

Board Committees: From Oversight to Impact

The conversation every board must have.

Date & Time Thursday, 12 November, 2026 · 8:30am

WELCOME

Committees are where boards do their real work, or quietly fail to.

Every chairperson knows it. Strategy is debated in the boardroom, but risk is priced, executives are rewarded, numbers are questioned and reputations are protected in the committees that meet before the board does.

The third Boardroom Governance Summit puts that machinery under the light. For one day at Labadi Beach Hotel, chairpersons, chief executives, regulators, company secretaries and the next generation of directors will examine how committees move an organisation from oversight to impact, and what happens when they don't.

Since 2024 the Summit has grown into a Pan-African meeting place for the people who carry the weight of stewardship. Join us, question freely, and take home something you can use at your next board meeting.

> PROF. DOUGLAS BOATENG

ABOUT THE CONVENER

Africa's first appointed Professor Extraordinaire for Supply and Value Chain Management (SBL, UNISA), an International Professional Chartered Director and an elected member of the UK Institute of Directors for more than two decades. He is regarded as one of the world's vertical-specific strategic thinkers on procurement, governance, logistics and industrial engineering. His counsel spans pharmaceuticals, mining, financial services, state-owned enterprises, aviation and agriculture. He holds a Doctor of Engineering from the University of Warwick and received the Chartered Institute of Procurement and Supply's Platinum Lifetime Global Achievers Award in 2016.

SHAPING ACCOUNTABILITY IN THE BOARDROOMS

A thought-leadership platform for bold, ethical and transformative boardroom practice.

The Boardroom Governance Summit convenes public and private sector leaders to confront governance challenges, exchange insights and sharpen board effectiveness. Conceived and convened by Prof. Douglas Boateng and hosted at Labadi Beach Hotel, it pairs expert dialogue with peer learning and exposure to international best practice in corporate governance, strategic oversight and stakeholder engagement.

Its distinguishing marks are a Pan-African scope spanning mature and emerging markets, multi-sector representation from energy and finance to health and ICT, evidence-based dialogue rooted in case studies, and deliberately cross-generational participation.

THEME 2026

Board Committees: From Oversight to Impact.

Oversight is what a committee is for. Impact is what the organisation feels. The distance between the two is where governance is won or lost, and it is the whole of this year's agenda.

Hon. Dr. Julius Debrah Chief of Staff to the President of the Republic of Ghana, an office he first held from 2015 to 2017 and resumed in January 2025. An alumnus of Achimota School and the University of Ghana, he has served as Minister for Local Government and Rural Development, Eastern Regional Minister and Greater Accra Regional Minister, where he championed the National Sanitation Day campaign. Respected across the political divide, he is known for a grassroots touch and quiet, effective administration at the heart of government.

Mr. Phuthuma Nhleko Chairman of the JSE, Africa's largest stock exchange, since May 2022, having joined its board in July 2021. He led MTN Group as Group President and Chief Executive Officer from 2002 to 2011, building it into one of Africa's leading telecommunications companies, and later returned to chair its board. He is the founder and Chairman of the Pembani Group, an investment holding company, and in 2012 established the Pembani Remgro Infrastructure Fund.

Mrs. Efua Ghartey President of the Ghana Bar Association and the first woman to lead it, elected in Kumasi in September 2024. CHAIRING THE AFTERNOON SESSION

The afternoon belongs to the directors

The President of the Institute of Directors-Ghana opens the afternoon and chairs the session that brings Panel 3 on finance and audit committees, the Youth Against Corruption presentation and the delegates' open forum, before the Convener closes the day.

AFTERNOON SESSION CHAIRPERSON

Mrs. Mary Asare-Yeboah, FIoD

President and Chair of the Governing Council, Institute of Directors-Ghana (IoD-Gh)

President and Chair of the Governing Council of the Institute of Directors-Ghana (IoD-Gh), elected in June 2025 to lead the Institute's 11th Governing Council after serving as its Vice-President from 2023. A Fellow of the Institute and a licensed insolvency practitioner, she speaks widely on the legal duties of directors and on ethical leadership, and champions continuous learning for boards through the Institute's regular seminars and webinars on emerging governance issues such as cybersecurity.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION

17:15	Closing Remarks Prof. Douglas Boateng, Convener

ABOUT IOD-GHANA

Institute of Directors-Ghana

The Institute of Directors-Ghana (IoD-Gh) is the professional body for company directors in Ghana. Founded in 1999 with the support of the Commonwealth Secretariat, the Commonwealth Association for Corporate Governance and the then State Enterprises Commission, and registered under the Professional Bodies Registration Decree, 1973 (NRCD 143), it promotes high standards of skill, knowledge, professional competence and integrity among executive and non-executive directors, board chairs and chief executives. The Institute led the development of Ghana's National Corporate Governance Code, launched in December 2022.

SPECIAL GUEST OF HONOUR

Engineering institutions that last

The President of the Ghana Institution of Engineering joins the Summit as a Special Guest of Honour, and the Institution's solidarity message follows the Chairpersons' panel at 11.20 am: the infrastructure a nation depends on is funded, governed and overseen in the boardroom.

SPECIAL GUEST OF HONOUR

Ing. Ludwig Annang Hesse

President, Ghana Institution of Engineering (GhIE)

The 53rd President of the Ghana Institution of Engineering, invested in 2025 under the theme "Engineering Our Future: Do it Well, Do it Right." A Fellow of the Institution, he has called for engineering to take a central role in Ghana's food security and for a thorough reset of the road sector, and has led the Institution's new leadership in engagements with the Electricity Company of Ghana, the Volta River Authority and the Ministry of Works and Housing.

EVERY CHAIRPERSON KNOWS IT

Committees: The Boardroom's Best-Kept Open Secret

The Chairperson's perspective on the power of board committees

Boards are judged by their decisions, but decisions are shaped long before the full board convenes. Chairpersons of Ghana's and Nigeria's most consequential boards discuss how they design, delegate to, and hold to account the committees that quietly run the boardroom.

MODERATOR & PANELISTS

MODERATOR

Mr. Mark Pritchard
Chairman, ASCON, Francophone Africa Trade

Chief Alhassan Andani
Board Chairman, Ecobank Ghana PLC and Cocoa Processing Company

Mr. Felix E. Addo
Board Chairman, Guinness Ghana Breweries PLC

Otunba Adetunji Oyebanji, F.CIoD
President & Chairman of Council, Chartered Institute of Directors Nigeria

STARTS	FORMAT	Q&A	ALSO
10.20 am	60-minute moderated panel	Delegates' open forum, 4.10 pm	Streamed live to regional participants

QUESTIONS ON THE TABLE

01 If the boardroom is the stage, are committees the writers' room? Where does the real decision-making actually happen?

02 What's a committee recommendation you initially disagreed with, and what changed your mind?

03 How do you tell the difference between a committee that's genuinely adding rigour and one that's just adding paperwork?

04 Chairpersons often say "trust but verify." How do you verify a committee's work without undermining its independence?

05 If you could redesign your committee structure from scratch tomorrow, what would you change first, and why haven't you already?

PANEL
2

ESG

The Committee That Made "Doing Good" a Board Agenda Item

The ESG Committee's perspective on responsible corporate citizenship

Five years ago "sustainability" was a report. Today it is a standing committee with a budget and a vote. A climate-enterprise adviser and leaders from oil and power, manufacturing and the motor and property business debate whether ESG has become genuine strategy, and what proof of impact should look like.

MODERATOR

Ms. Ruka Sanusi
Co-Founder, Decarbonomics Climate Advisors

Dr. Patrick Kwaku Ofori

Mr. Samuel Kwesi Fletcher
Deputy Chief Executive (Services), Volta River Authority (VRA)

STARTS	FORMAT	Q&A	ALSO
11.55 am	60-minute moderated panel	Delegates' open forum, 4.10 pm	Streamed live to regional participants

QUESTIONS ON THE TABLE

01 Is ESG a genuine strategic lever now, or still mostly a reporting exercise dressed up as strategy?

02 What's the most uncomfortable ESG trade-off your board has had to face: profit versus principle?

03 How do you stop ESG from becoming a box-ticking committee that meets quarterly and changes nothing?

04 Stakeholders increasingly demand proof, not promises. What does "proof" actually look like on your board's ESG scorecard?

05 Ten years from now, will we still be calling it "ESG", or will it just be called how a well-run company operates?

FINANCE & AUDIT

Finance and Audit Committees: Where the Numbers Confess Before the People Do

The Finance and Audit Committee's perspective on financial stewardship and risk

The audit committee is the board's early-warning system. A board chairman and chartered accountant, a public-sector head of internal audit and a past president of the accountancy profession examine how numbers reveal trouble before people admit it, and how to build a culture in which bad news arrives early.

MODERATOR & PANELISTS

MODERATOR

Dr. Alfred Mahamadu Braimah

Board Chairman, Benso Oil Palm Plantation PLC

Stella Acheampong

Independent Non-Executive Director, Republic Bank (Ghana) PLC

STARTS	FORMAT	Q&A	ALSO
2.20 pm	60-minute moderated panel	Delegates' open forum, 4.10 pm	Streamed live to regional participants

QUESTIONS ON THE TABLE

01 What's a red flag in a set of numbers that most directors would miss, but an audit committee never should?

02 How do you build a culture where management brings you bad news early, instead of a polished version late?

03 Internal controls are only as strong as the people who respect them. How do you audit for integrity, not just accuracy?

04 What keeps you up at night more: a risk you can see coming, or one you suspect you can't?

05 If the balance sheet could talk, what's the one confession it's always trying to avoid making?

PANEL 1 · MODERATOR

Mr. Mark Pritchard

Chairman, ASCON, Francophone Africa Trade

Managing Director of MAP Consultants Côte d'Ivoire, and Francophone Africa Champion and Pan-African Trade Lead for the African Supply Chain Confederation (ASCON). Based in Abidjan, he brings some 35 years of business-building and leadership experience across Africa. His work centres on trade facilitation and corridor development under the African Continental Free Trade Area, with a particular focus on the Abidjan to Lagos corridor and on harmonising road-transport rules across ECOWAS and UEMOA states.

PANEL 1 · PANELIST

Chief Alhassan Andani

Board Chairman, Ecobank Ghana PLC and Cocoa Processing Company

Board Chairman of Ecobank Ghana PLC and one of the most respected figures in Ghanaian banking. He chairs the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research and SOS Children's Villages Ghana, serves on the board of Gold Fields Limited, and is the Paramount Chief of Pishigu in the Dagbon Traditional Area.

PANEL 1 · PANELIST

Mr. Felix E. Addo

Board Chairman, Guinness Ghana Breweries PLC

Non-executive Chairman of Guinness Ghana Breweries since 2018 and a former Chairman of the Ghana National Petroleum Corporation. He led PwC Ghana as Country Senior Partner from 2009 to 2015 and sat on the PwC Africa Governance Board, after more than 30 years advising on corporate finance and recovery, forensic audit, restructuring and infrastructure. He serves on the boards of MTN Ghana, KEK Insurance Brokers and PaySwitch, and is President of the Ghana Association of Restructuring and Insolvency Advisors.

PANEL 1 · PANELIST

Otunba Adetunji Oyebanji, F.CIoD

President & Chairman of Council, Chartered Institute of Directors Nigeria

President and Chairman of the Governing Council of the Chartered Institute of Directors Nigeria and Managing Director of 11 Plc (formerly Mobil Oil Nigeria). With four decades in oil and gas he has helped shape Nigeria's downstream petroleum sector, chairing the Major Energies Marketers Association of Nigeria from 2019 to 2021. He holds a BSc in Economics from the University of Lagos and an MBA from Bayes Business School, and has been named among Nigeria's top 25 chief executives by BusinessDay.

PANEL 2 · MODERATOR

Ms. Ruka Sanusi

Co-Founder, Decarbonomics Climate Advisors

Co-Founder of Decarbonomics Climate Advisors and the Decarbonomics Venture Accelerator, and Founder of Alldens Lane, a boutique consulting and coaching firm for women-led enterprises across Africa. A management consultant and executive coach with three decades of experience across Europe and 16 sub-Saharan African countries, she was Executive Director of the Ghana Climate Innovation Centre for more than eight years until April 2025, raising over US$20 million for green businesses. Earlier, at PwC Ghana and Nigeria, she built the Strategy & Operations Advisory unit and launched the firm's Sustainability and Climate Change practice.

PANEL 2 · PANELIST

Dr. Patrick Kwaku Ofori

CEO, Ghana Chamber of Bulk Oil Distributors (CBOD)

Chief Executive of the Ghana Chamber of Bulk Oil Distributors since 2022, following senior roles at the Ghana National Petroleum Corporation, where he managed crude oil and products marketing and institutional reporting. A Commonwealth Scholar, he holds a PhD from the University of Stirling and an MSc in Accounting and Finance from the University of Ghana, and was the founding Head of the Department of Sports Science at the University of Cape Coast.

PANEL 2 · PANELIST

Mr. Michael Wei Ye

Managing Director, Sunda International Ghana Ltd.

Leads the Ghana operations of Sunda International, one of the largest manufacturers of home and personal-care products on the continent. Under his stewardship Sunda has deepened local manufacturing in Accra, including a US$48 million partnership with the International Finance Corporation to expand production of washing powder, diapers and sanitary products, while exporting close to half of its output and strengthening private-sector links between China and Africa.

PANEL 2 · PANELIST

Mr. Salah Kweku Kalmoni

Chief Executive Officer, Japan Motors Trading Company

Chief Executive Officer of Japan Motors Trading Company, the Kalmoni Group business whose history in Ghana began in 1912, and Executive Director of Silver Star Tower and Lakeside Estate. He oversees Advance Constructions, Lakeside Estates and the ten-storey Silver Star Tower, a landmark of Accra's Airport City, bringing a family-business perspective on long-term stewardship and the governance of enterprises built to last generations.

PANEL 2 · PANELIST

Mr. Samuel Kwesi Fletcher

Deputy Chief Executive (Services), Volta River Authority (VRA)

Deputy Chief Executive (Services) of the Volta River Authority. He previously headed the Authority's Corporate Communications and CSR and was its spokesperson through the 2012–2015 power crisis, leading demand-side management and energy-conservation programmes. He brings more than 28 years' experience across energy, telecommunications and ICT, and international diplomacy, including the Commonwealth Telecommunications Organisation in London and IBM in the Netherlands, and is Vice President on the Board of the Ghana Network of the UN Global Compact.

PANEL 3 · MODERATOR

Dr. Alfred Mahamadu Braimah

Board Chairman, Benso Oil Palm Plantation PLC

Board Chairman of Benso Oil Palm Plantation PLC, consistently among the best-performing companies on the Ghana Stock Exchange. A chartered accountant with 38 years in national and international management, he has worked across rice farming and milling, fast-moving consumer goods and oil palm, including senior roles with Unilever in Ghana, India, the United Kingdom, South Africa and Nigeria, and with ECOWAS. He holds a BSc in Administration from the University of Ghana, an MBA with distinction from Durham University and a PhD in management.

PANEL 3 · PANELIST

Stella Acheampong

Director, Internal Audit, Department of Energy and Green Transition

Director of Internal Audit for Ghana's energy and green transition portfolio, where she leads the internal audit function that gives leadership independent assurance on risk management, internal control and governance in one of the country's most financially significant sectors. She brings the public-sector auditor's view to the panel: how audit committees and internal auditors can surface problems in the numbers before they become crises.

PANEL 3 · PANELIST

Ms. Sena Dake

Independent Non-Executive Director, Republic Bank (Ghana) PLC

Independent Non-Executive Director of Republic Bank (Ghana) PLC since August 2025 and Immediate Past President of the Institute of Chartered Accountants, Ghana.
